

CHRISTCHURCH EARTHQUAKE APPEAL

EARTHQUAKE RECOVERY PROJECTS THAT BENEFIT MANY

Tomorrow Starts Here.

Twenty new earthquake scholarships have been awarded to first-year tertiary students with $170,000 to Bright Start.

Donations to the Christchurch Earthquake Appeal have paid for hundreds of recovery projects in greater Christchurch, Kaiapoi and Rangiora over the past two and a half years.

The Appeal Trustees continue to actively look for medium to large-sized permanent projects to fund (valued at $100,000 or more) with the aim of making a positive difference to Canterbury's long-term recovery and leave a legacy to the Appeal.

Limited funds remain available for smaller, local community recovery projects.

Trustees are on track to allocate most of the Appeal funds by early 2014, as they have indicated since late last year.

To date the Christchurch Earthquake Appeal has raised more than $100 million in pledged and received funds. Trustees have approved more than $62 million for recovery projects, while a further $7 million has been pledged for specific purposes and projects.

The Gymnastics Centre at QEII reopened its older gymnasium, strengthened with $100,000 from the Appeal Trust and NZCT.

Prime Minister John Key in Kaiapoi as work started to restore public amenities on the riverbank with $2 million from the Appeal Trust.

Rebuilding Cholmondeley Children's Home is being helped with $550,000 from the Appeal Trust.

Children enjoy a Sport Canterbury event at AMI Stadium. Appeal Trust funding ensures the stadium is available for communities.
